HARDING PUTS HIS NAME TO FUEL MEASURE

Anti-Profitteering and Coal Distribution Bill Is Signed By Executive

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED

Conrad Spens, Vice-President Of Burlington, Takes Part For 60-Day Period

Washington, Sept. 22.—President Harding today signed the administration coal distribution and anti-profitteering bill and the fact finding coal commission bill.

Conrad E. Spens, vice president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company was appointed Federal Fuel Distributor under the new coal distribution anti-profitteering act.

Selection of the Burlington official for the new post, which carries with it broad authority to devise plans for movement of coal shipments was announced at the White House shortly after President Harding had affixed his signature to the coal distribution and anti-profitteering bill and to the separate emergency measure for a fact finding coal commission. Mr. Spens is understood to have been recommended by Secretary Hoover, with whom he was associated in the war time food administration.

Mr. Spens has been given a sixty days furlough from the Burlington railway to undertake this work. He was chief of transportation division of the food administration during the war.

H. B. Spencer, who has been acting as voluntary Fuel Distributor in co-operation with the various departments of the government, had consented to act only until definite organization could be erected and had requested that he be relieved in order to resume his work as president of the Fruit Growers' Express.

RAILROADS AWAIT FATE OF OF INJUNCTION

Judge Wilkerson Announces Ruling Will Be Made Tomorrow Morning

Chicago, Sept. 22.—With the railroad world waiting for the decision he has promised by 11 A. M. tomorrow, Judge James H. Wilkerson, in the preparation of his ruling on the governments strike injunction, was without any suggestions today from Attorney General Daugherty for modification of the restraining order issued September 1.

The only features of the attorney general's bill interpreted as modifications of the order now in effect, lay in clauses clarifying the phraseology and in the following provision: "Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prohibit the use of the funds or monies of any said labor organizations for any lawful purpose, and nothing contained in this order shall be construed to prohibit the expression of any opinion or argument not intended to aid or encourage the doing of any of the acts heretofore enjoined, or not calculated to maintain or prolong a conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce or the transportation of the mails."

Mr. Daugherty at the close of the hearing, explained the government's position.

"This order," he said, "speaks the last word for the government and for society and for civilization for peace and fairness, for liberty and protection with firmness and if necessary with force."

Declaring it the duty of the government to compel the railroads to furnish transportation he asserted it is also the obligation of the government to prevent interference with transportation.

Until he makes his ruling, the restraining order, issued September 1, extended for a second ten-day period, remains in effect, Judge Wilkerson announced.

Company to Drill

Company A, North Dakota National Guard, will hold drill tonight at 7:30 p. m.

FRUIT COMPANY OFFICE RIFFLED

The Stacy Fruit Co. offices were entered last night by prowlers, who apparently were unable to steal anything but who scattered papers far and wide in the office in their attempt. The cash drawer was rifled but the cash, as usual, had been removed at the close of the day's business.

This is the second time recently the warehouse and offices of the company have been entered. The first time articles valued at $12 to $15 were taken. The attempted robbery of last night is believed to have been the work of boys.

MRS. POULIN TO TAKE STAND SECOND TIME

Wife of Accused Man Testifying in Behalf of Her Husband

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Mae Poulin, wife of Harry Poulin, who is charged by Mrs. Augusta Terman, with the paternity of her ten months old child, is expected to resume the stand today in court Mrs. Poulin testifying in behalf of her husband, was undergoing cross examination by Prosecutor Floyd Jellison, when court was adjourned yesterday.

Mrs. Poulin yesterday disputed practically in its entirety previous testimony given by Mrs. Terman, regarding the alleged relations between the latter and Mr. Poulin. The witness testified that on all of the occasions with the exception of one, which Mrs. Terman claimed Poulin was in her company he had accompanied her Mrs. (Poulin) to church. On that occasion, the witness said, Mr. Poulin was ill.

The witness added that contrary to Mrs. Terman's testimony, the professor's wife, had told her that there had been no break in his matrimonial happiness of the Terman home.

Yesterday's session was marked by many heated verbal clashes among the contending counsel and witnesses. The spectators were frequently in an uproar and it was difficult for attorneys to make themselves heard.

FIRE DESTROYS ENGINE HOUSE

Building on E. G. Patterson Farm Is Burned

A lantern which overturned while George Dunt, dairyman on the E. G. Patterson farm east of the city, was working in the engine house caused a fire which destroyed the building and threatened to spread to other buildings, about 8 o'clock last night. The city fire department was called and chemical was thrown on the fire, to prevent explosion of 100 gallons of gasoline which was under the ground below the engine house. Had this become ignited and exploded it is probable the barn would have been burned. The light wind blowing also was favorable.

Mr. Patterson said the loss probably would exceed $500, the building being insured but not the contents. The loss included destruction of three gasoline engines, threshing machine belt, a pump, and other materials. He expressed thanks to the city firemen for responding and smothering the fire so as to prevent an explosion of gasoline or destruction of other buildings. Mr. Dunt was burned about the face.

The fire department yesterday afternoon responded to a call to the Presbyterian church. The alarm, which firemen said was received as from this church, was sent by some person for the Methodist church. A fire was started in the furnace there, smoked somewhat and caused alarm, but there was no danger of fire in the church, Rev. Halford said.

MCGRATH WILL KEEP PLACE

O. McGrath of Morton county, and B. J. Monaghan of Upham, will continue to act as chief game wardens for the remainder of their terms, which expire next April, according to recommendation of attorney to be made to the state game and fish board, following the decision of District Judge Fugh in the matter. The McGrath case, decided by Judge Fugh, will not be appealed, according to present plans.

Judge Coffey has appointed a referee to take testimony in the cases of Ted Hartung of Dickinson and J. J. Hickey of Burlington, state wide deputies, who brought mandamus action for their salaries, alleging they had not been notified of their alleged removal. Eugene Walla, a deputy, has a suit pending for salary under similar claim. Attorneys on both sides of these actions are agreed that the board may remove deputies at their pleasure.

FIGURES IN NEW BRUSWICK (N. J.) MURDER MYSTERY

MYSTERY OF HALL-MILLS DUAL MURDER SEEMS AS FAR FROM ANY SOLUTION AS WHEN BODIES WERE FOUND UNDER TREE

Colored Man Shot In Drinking Party

Huron, S. D., Sept. 22.—Henry Gilliam, colored, 29 years old and married, was shot and killed by Mrs. Maggie Ross, also colored during what police officials term a "drinking party" at the latter's residence in this city, last night. Mrs. Ross has confessed the crime, according to State's Attorney Charles P. Warren.

According to the story of the woman, Gilliam came to her home late yesterday with a supply of liquor, which the two proceeded to drink.

FORD OBTAINS ENOUGH COAL FOR 30 DAYS

Contract Is Signed by Representative of Company and Coal Corporation

(By the Associated Press)

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 22.—An order for coal for the Ford Motor company of Detroit was signed here today by a representative of the Ford company with the American Export and Inland Coal Corporation of this city. It was announced by Ernest F. Healey, president of the coal corporation. Abner Lunsford, general manager of mines of the Ford company, confirmed the announcement of Healey, saying that he had signed the order in behalf of the Detroit concern.

Mr. Healey refused to state the price to be paid for the coal and the amount in tonnage the order called for. He did say, however, that his company had the coal and it would come from mines in Kentucky and West Virginia.

Mr. Lunsford who is acting a coal purchasing agent here, when asked at what price and to what extent he had bought coal for the Ford company, said:

"You can say that it was at the Hoover fair price and that we now have ordered enough coal to run the plants for thirty days. We are buying coal as fast as we can get it at the prices we ask. By the end of 30 days we hope to have enough to run up indefinitely."

"With the removal of Interstate Commerce Commission order No. 23, most of our regular shippers have had supplied us with coal before it went into effect, have begun shipments," Mr. Lunsford continued. "In a short time we will have a safe margin of supply."

Investigators Indicate That They Have Definite Theory That Points to a Certain Individual

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 22.—The mystery of who killed the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, wife of the church sexton, seemed as far from solution today as it was nearly a week ago when the bodies were found.

Authorities turned to questioning the individual members of the little church, indicating the investigators gave some weight to the theory advanced by Ellis Parker, county detective, that the slain couple may have been the victims of a person inspired by religious fanaticism. An observation to be censorious of the conduct of the clergyman may have prompted the crime, according to this theory.

While the investigators have indicated they have a definite theory and that it points to a certain individual they have been slow to make their conclusions public until they complete the inquiry. Both Mills and Mrs. Hall are vigorous in declaring they do not believe stories of improper relations between the pair. The widow of the slain rector is said to believe her husband and Mrs. Mills were killed as a result of mistaken identity. She has also felt that robbery prompted the crime.

Authorities investigating the slaying of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, choir leader, turned again to J. J. J. J. Mills, husband of the dead woman, in their efforts to solve the mystery which six days of probing has only served to deepen.

Mills was re-examined at length but authorities declined to indicate what line the questioning took. It was understood, however, that they made strenuous efforts to help him recall the name of the woman who he said told him several months ago that gossip was linking the names of Mrs. Mills and Mr. Hall.

The questioning of church members also continued today. The questioners were ready to follow lines supporting any one of three theories.

That the murders were committed with a jealousy motive.

That they were committed by luck mailers who had become defrauded.

That they were committed by some self-appointed "moral center" in the minister's flock.

The only theory which has been advanced that they appeared unwilling to consider seriously was that of a robbery motive. Their first instinct, however, is pinned to the jealousy motive.

Supreme Court Modifies Action In Criminal Cases

(By the Associated Press)

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 22.—Special action by a judge is unnecessary to bring lawbreakers to trial where the penalty does not exceed a maximum of ten years, according to a decision handed down today by the state supreme court, which held that the filing of information is sufficient to proceed with prosecution.

The ruling, which establishes a precedent in the state, makes possible speedy action by the courts, especially in the small districts, where oftentimes the offender is held for months awaiting action by a grand jury.

HARDING TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION NOV. 15

Congress Prepares to Clean Up Calendar Subject to Adjournment Today

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND

Speeches on Political subjects Expected to Occupy Closing Hours

CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Washington, Sept. 22.—Adjournment of congress at 2 o'clock today was arranged definitely when the senate soon after reconvening adopted the house resolution providing for the sine die ending of the session.

President Harding arrived at the Capitol a quarter of an hour before the time set for final adjournment and at his desk in the President's room began affixing his signature to last minute legislative matters.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Senate and house leaders had shaped their plans for adjournment of congress sine die today, with only minor legislative matters apparently remaining to be cleaned up before the final favela that will release members for attention to election and home affairs until the prospective special session to be called by President Harding about November 15.

The second session of the sixty-seventh congress adjourned today sine die. Legislation passed in the closing minutes of the session was signed at the Capitol by President Harding.

Speeches on political and other subjects were expected to occupy the closing hours of the session today while both houses awaited the conference report on the deficiency appropriation bill passed by the senate late yesterday as the last important bill on the Republican leaders' program for passage before adjournment.

The house resolution providing for adjournment of congress at 2 o'clock today was to be presented for adoption by the senate, with leaders prepared to defer the hour until later in the day if necessary.

In order to sign the deficiency measure and other minor bills President Harding was expected to attend the closing hour of the session. The house quit work promptly at 2 o'clock in accordance with the adjournment resolution but signing by the senate presiding officer of a number of recently passed bills delayed adjournment of that body, until a few minutes later.

Leaders on leaving the Capitol generally expressed the belief that President Harding would call congress back in special session about the middle of November to take up the merchant marine bill and amendments to the transportation act. The President, however, has not publicly stated whether he has made a decision in the matter.

Today's session in both houses was devoted mostly to speech making in which Republican leaders praised achievements of the session and Democratic leaders declared it had fallen far short of its opportunities.

PROPOSE AMENDMENT FOR BEER TO PAY BONUS TO SOLDIERS

Washington, Sept. 22.—An amendment to the constitution which would permit a nationwide referendum upon sale of five per cent beer with the receipts from taxes applied to the payment of a soldiers' bonus, was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Brennan, republican, Michigan.

Misfortunes for the family began when the father, Albert Moskl, brought the family here from Poland, six years ago.

Boski's health failed and his savings soon were exhausted. For the past three years, he had been unable to work except at odd jobs and inability to pay his rent led to eviction of the family a few weeks ago. A payment of $5 had been made on a suburban lot and the family went to this and built a shack which was to be home.

Yesterday the food supply dwindled to a small quantity of bread and a can of lard and there was no money. The children found some tinned stools they believed were mushrooms and their mother baked them believing them edible. Police found the poison victims several hours later.

The children are Rose 11, Adam 5, and Stanley 2.

Hospital attaches said recovery of all five was doubtful owing to their weakened condition through lack of food.

MINOT POLICE IN GUN FIGHT WITH YEGGS

Safe in Filling Station Wrecked But Only $250 Is Secured

Minot, N. D., Sept. 22.—Four yeggs who had wrecked the safe of the International Oil company filling station about 4:30 A. M. today made their escape after a running gun battle with the Minot police, in which none of the officers were injured and it is believed the robbers escaped without wounds. The safe wreckers secured about $250, it was stated by officials of the company today.

Approximately twenty shots were exchanged between the police and the four men, who split up into pairs as soon as the battle opened. Patrolmen Lee Brudage and Earl Bronson, hearing a commotion in the vicinity of the oil station, which is at the end of second street northeast, were standing on the opposite side of the street when the men came out of the alley. They commanded the fleeing men to halt and received an answer a fusillade of bullets, all of which went into their marks. They retaliated with several shots, and the party split up, two of the men running south and the other two dodging back into the alley.

Authorities today were attempting to ascertain the identity of the person who drove an automobile up to the filling station at the time the robbers were working in the office, and who was greeted with several shots from the guns of the yeggs.

The safe, a large one, was badly wrecked by the explosion.

FIVE NEAR DEATH FROM EATING FUNGUS

Out of Food They Consume Poisonous Matter to Appease Hunger

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 22.—A family of five—father, mother and three children, one of the latter a blind boy, was in the municipal hospital today near death from the effects of eating poisonous fungus, which was served by the mother, police declared, when the supply of food and funds gave out.

Misfortunes for the family began when the father, Albert Moskl, brought the family here from Poland, six years ago.

Boski's health failed and his savings soon were exhausted. For the past three years, he had been unable to work except at odd jobs and inability to pay his rent led to eviction of the family a few weeks ago. Town of Ez-Ine Blocking Movement of English Ships Through Dardanelles Is Taken

THRACE IS OBJECTIVE

Greece Prepares to Defend What She Considers "Home Territory" — French and Italians Have Withdrawn

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Sept. 22.—The French cabinet today decided that in view of the refusal of the British to withdraw their forces from Chanak on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, the efforts of the French government should be directed toward preventing war between Turkey and Great Britain. To this end it was agreed immediately to send Franklin Bouillon to Smyrna.

TAKE TOWN ON DARDANELLES

Constantinople, Sept. 22.—Turks seized the town of Ez-Ine, on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and are threatening Kum Kaleh, an important key position to the Southern side of the straits. The Kemalists were nowhere opposed.

The National move, in the opinion of the naval experts here, will enable the Turks to prevent free ingress through the Dardanelles of the British Atlantic fleet units which are on the way from Malta.

The important positions involved were up to today occupied by the French and the Italians, and from them the heavy Turkish batteries can command the entrance to the straits.

General Pelle, French high commissioner here, returned yesterday from his mission to Smyrna. It is understood he had little success in his attempt to persuade Mustafa Kemal Pasha of the inexpediency of crossing the straits and occupying Thrace. It is believed Kemal pointed out that observance of the neutrality of the straits by the Nationalists could be predicated only upon adequate guarantees from the Allies that Thrace would be restored to Turkey.

The British forces are working day and night digging trenches at Chanak, Beikos and other vital points in the Asiatic area. Additional British troops have arrived in the Bosphorus.

GREECE TO MAKE STAND

(By the Associated Press)

Athens, Sept. 22.—Greece will never permit the Turks to invade Thrace, which she considers part of her home land and retention of which is "an essential preliminary condition to any peace conference." This declaration was made in a statement to The Associated Press by the Greek foreign office today.

"We have lost Asia Minor, but we must keep Thrace," said the statement. "That is an essential preliminary condition to any peace conference. Our army in Asia Minor, which had been fighting for ten years, was absolutely exhausted, but the Greek Nation will never permit the Turks to invade Thrace, which we consider home territory."

The Smyrna massacre speaks for itself. Greece is defending Christian civilization.

"Internally Greece is quiet. There is absolutely no danger of a revolution. Foreign reports of trouble are the outgrowth of the insistence of our troops that they be returned to Piraeus instead of being demobilized on the islands. But these war-weary men had no revolutionary designs; they only wanted to go home."

HOPE FOR PEACE

(By the Associated Press)

London, Sept. 22.—Views of the Near Eastern crisis here oscillate between hope and fear with a slight tendency in favor of the hopeful side of the balance. Nothing has happened in the past 24 hours to make the position materially worse, although it continues serious enough. The immediate peril is in the possibility that the Turkish Nationalist troops will attack the British position along the Dardanelles.

It is confidently hoped that resumption of the conversation of the Allied statesmen in Paris today will lead to the sending of an invitation to the Ankara government, probably tomorrow, to participate in a general conference to settle the Dardanelles question and the Turkish claims. Until such an invitation has been sent and acceptance received, the anxiety must continue.

TURKS PESSIMISTIC.

Constantinople, Sept. 22.—A pessimistic view of the present situation is taken in Turkish Nationalist circles here. It was declared yesterday that unless the Kemalists received assurances and guarantees from the Allies within 48 hours that the question of the disposition of Thrace would be settled in favor of the Turks, a serious situation would arise, and it would be impossible to restrain the forward march of their army.

At the same time it was stated the

Stop-Overs to be Arranged in Famous Cities of South,
It Is Announced

The American Legion transportation committee for North Dakota has chosen an official route for the trip to the National Convention of the Legion at New Orleans, October 16-20, it is announced from state headquarters. The committee's announcement follows:

From North Dakota, all members making this trip will purchase through tickets to St. Paul from their respective towns using the railroad upon which located. For example, members from Lisbon, which is located on the Northern Pacific would use that line to St. Paul. From Hillsboro the Great Northern would be used to St. Paul.

From St. Paul to Chicago the route will be via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, following the Mississippi to La Crosse, thence through the Delta of Wisconsin, passing through the city of Milwaukee and other interesting points.

From Chicago to Evansville, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois is used, passing through the cities of Terre Haute and Vincennes, Indiana.

Train State Special

From Evansville to New Orleans the Louisville and Nashville will be traversed, passing through Kentucky and mountains of Tennessee and Alabama; also the cities of Birmingham, Montgomery and Mobile and along the beautiful Gulf Coast, sometimes called the "Riveria of America," from its resemblance to the French Riviera, where so many of our buddies got a little relief from army routine. Stopovers will be arranged at points on the Gulf Coast and at the most important cities, such as Nashville, Montgomery and Mobile.

The return trip will be made via Gulfport and Mobile. The train will leave New Orleans on the return trip either the 20th or 21st.

Use Cars for Hotel

"It can be readily seen that the above proposed itinerary will give a wonderful trip. The train will belong to the Department of North Dakota. The cars will be parked while in New Orleans, thus effecting a considerable saving on hotel bills. The committee has secured a very reasonable rate for this trip. By chartering the cars, we will be able to sleep in them while in New Orleans, at a lower rate than the regular fare for berths for the round trip.

The sleeping car rates will be from Fargo: standard $25.48; tourist, $17.48. The railroad fare from Fargo to New Orleans and return will be $64.81. The train will be called the "North Dakota Special." According to State Adjutant Jack Williams reservations must be made without delay.

ENTOMBED MEN BURIED AS CITY PAYS TRIBUTE

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 22.—Jackson closed its business houses and its schools today to pay final tribute to 46 Argonaut victims, 45 of whose bodies will be buried in Reek Sepulchres hewn and blasted in the dirt of the Mother Lode gold country. Searching crews renewed today their efforts to find the body of Wm. Fessel, the 47th member. When Fessel went after writing his message with the smoke of his torch upon the walls of the men's tomb is a mystery that puzzles mining experts. The message said: "Gas getting bad, Fessel." Officials assume he sought other parts of the Argonaut mine to escape the encroaching gas. The forty-six bodies recovered from the Argonaut mine disaster here were buried today while search preparations continued for the forty-seventh victim, Wm. Fessel. Search for Fessel and all other business and domestic activity of Jackson ceased while the inhabitants gathered at the three churches and in the three cemeteries for the final obsequies for the victims. Twenty-seven bodies were borne to the Catholic church, eight to the Protestant, and eleven to the Greek Catholic in three separate corteges. The fate of Fessel remained as great a puzzle as it was when it was announced that his body could not be found in the 4,350 foot drift and cross-cut where the bodies of the other victims were located. The search for Fessel will be continued until he has been found or until it is determined that he has been lost beyond recovery. It was announced. Mrs. officials believe that it would have been impossible for Fessel to have broken through two bulkheads erected in the death drift by the entombed men. There is no doubt, they said today, that Fessel is dead.

JURY FAILS TO FIX BLAME

Coroner's Jury in Moorhead
Probes Fatal Accident

Fargo, Sept. 22.—No statement of responsibility was included in the verdict of the coroner's jury in the inquest in the death of four members of the Bern Haroldson family of near Twin Valley, Minn., held at police headquarters in Moorhead yesterday.

After hearing testimony from 13 witnesses, the jury retired and deliberated about half an hour before returning its verdict.

The verdict found that Bern Haroldson, Mrs. Marie Haroldson, Kermit Haroldson and Gladys Haroldson met their death by Great Northern freight car No. 10561 striking and demolishing their car at the Tenth street crossing of the Great Northern Railroad company in the city of Moorhead, Minn., on the eighteenth day of September, 1922. Car No. 10561 was the end car of 15 cars being pushed west in charge of a crew from train No. 538 on the house track by engine No. 1647.

(Signed) J. Howard Hess, R. K. Pederson, H. C. Abbott, John Schranz, Peter Dwyer, H. S. Blakeway.

Cleared Rail, Is Claim According to testimony of William W. Gilmore, Grand Forks, conductor of the freight train and who was riding on car No. 10561, which was empty, the Ford carrying the five members of the Haroldson family, going south, had cleared the south rail of the house track on which the cars were being shunted.

Testimony of all witnesses agreed that the Ford car skidded several feet just after the crash and then rolled over two or three times before the freight car climbed on the wreckage. All but one of the witnesses testified that there were side curtains on the Ford. The other witness declared that he had a clear view of all five occupants of the car.

Rome, Sept. 22.—The apostolic delegation at Constantinople telegraphed the Vatican today that the situation there was very grave.

INDIAN SEES "OPEN FALL"

Selkirk, Man., Sept. 22.—An open fall with no cold weather until late in December, was predicted today by Henry Prince, a grandson of the great Indian chief, Pogens, who spoke with all confidence of a man who knew what he was talking about. He based his opinion principally on the position and movement of the stars, and declared the dipper is exceptionally slow in its turning movements this season.

This fact, he stated, is an unfailing sign of long continuance of warm weather. Other signs, not so infallible in themselves, but taken in conjunction with the stars, in his opinion clinch the matter. They are, the exceptionally cool nights that have prevailed this summer, the fact that ducks are later than usual in coming back from the north, and the late hatching season, with the number of flappers that are to be seen at this late date on the sloughs.

TERIBLE JEWELS
The Russian crown jewels, offered for sale by the Bolsheviks, are advertised as having a value of $99,000,000,000. Such is the estimate of Parberger the French jewel expert.

This stupendous sum, in rough figures, is equal to all the money that will be earned this year by all Americans combined.
And yet the Russian crown jewels are displayed on a table about 12 feet long and 8 feet wide, scattered rather loosely on its surface, not piled up.
Imagine that—the work of all Americans for a year, concentrated in a couple of pecks of "glass" and exhibited to international gem brokers on a single table!
It is preposterously ridiculous. For practical purposes these jewels are worthless. Their value exists only in the imagination of man, a form of self-hypnotism.

Many famous jewels in this collection of the late czar and czarina. Each one, in uncut form, probably existed millions of years ago. And most of them have a romantic record. Many, if they could talk and tell of the times they changed hands, would have an amazing story of crime—murder, overthrow of kingdoms, theft and loss of honor.
Most remarkable in the collection is the Orloff diamond, stolen from an Indian temple. You have read that sort of thing in fiction.

The Soviet keeps these Russian crown jewels in a room whose location is secret. A handful of peasants stand guard.
You wonder that they do not consent to loot the treasure and flee, each ineffectually rich for life.
The temptation would occur to nine people out of ten. At least three of the ten would turn thief. But the peasant guards are fanatics and fanatics usually are honest—on the wrong side of the question. Germany, stealing these Russian jewels through a gang of spies, could wipe out her indemnity overnight.

The value, you say—$99,000,000,000—is exaggerated? That may be. But there are millions of fools who would pay that much if they had the money.
And somewhere on earth at this very minute are unfortunates who, if they had the Russian crown jewels, would trade them for a loaf of bread, a drink of water or an armful of firewood.

TURKISH
A famous and powerful woman rises in the Orient. She is Halide Edis Hanoum, the "Turkish Joan of Arc."
Halide is highly educated, magnetic, with a romantic career that includes exile, triumphant escape and a return to the leadership of her armies.
This woman probably soon will figure in newspaper headlines. Most interesting thing about her is that a beautiful Turkish woman now can have a "career," instead of being enslaved in the harem. Emancipation of woman is reaching into the most remote places of the earth.

DEBT
Bonds issued by American municipalities and states from the first of the year to September totaled $902,065,118.
Unless this pace is checked, it will not be many years until states and municipalities will have themselves mortgaged to an amount exceeding the national debt. Maybe they are closer to it now than anyone imagines.
Here is real financial peril. Taxpayers should shift their attention from the national debt to reckless spending by states and cities.

PERSONALITY
Ohio produces 48 per cent of the nation's entire output of rubber goods, says Department of Commerce.
There is no logical reason why Ohio should lead in this line, except that Ohio has decided to erect a personality personality in the greatest force in business. And opportunity is where he make it, not far off over the hills.

JOKES
Marvelous discovery—something interesting about the tariff. Leeches are on the free list, after much debate. So is ice.
Volcanic lava in the raw state can be imported without paying duty, but a tariff levy is tacked on if the lava has been converted into sundraper or other useful forms.

Eggs of fish and wild birds and insects are on the free list. So are dog-bones, just-sticks, and horse-hair. The tariff-makers evidently considered everything that can come into America except air, rain and shadows.

GAMBLER
Andre Ardissou, famous in all European gambling casinos as the "King of Card-sharps," commits suicide at Toulon.

He is buried now and the facts come out. This gambler, who frequently cleaned up as much as $50,000 an evening, shot himself because he went broke in the stock market. Sooner or later it gets them all, except the rare few who know when to quit.

DEATH
Sydney, Australia, claims it is the healthiest city in the world. Last year its death rate was only 19.04 out of each 1000 inhabitants.

However, there is no occasion to rush across the Pacific. Only 25 out of each 1000 Americans die yearly. That is but seven above the world's healthiest city. And our death rate is being cut steadily.

DR. HEINIE
Marks have become so worthless in Germany that dealers at the Leipzig Fair refuse to accept them in payment for goods to be exported. They demand foreign money.
Samuel Montagu & Co., London foreign exchange house, says: This is typical of the approaching situation all through Germany. The day inevitably is no far off when the foreign holder of German currency will be unable to spend his marks even across the Rhine.

MANAGERS AND MEN GET TOGETHER
One result of the failure of the rail shopmen's strike seems likely to be the restoration of direct relations between the railroads and their men.

The national strike was a by-product of the national administration of the railroads during and after the war. As the Government was operating the railroads, it was natural for it to arrive at agreements with national organizations of rail employees. When the Government handed the properties back to the rail managements, it also handed over the plan of settling wage scales and other matters on a national basis.

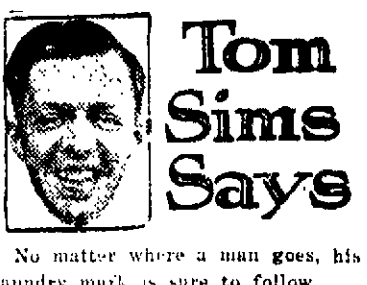

The creation of the Railroad Labor Board seemed at first to fit in with this method. The Board treated the fixing of wages as a national question, and handed down decisions raising them or lowering them for the whole country.
This system also fitted well with the plans of the rail labor organizations and their chiefs, because such national settlements tended to the aggrandizement of the chiefs and tightened their hold on office and power.

But conditions of employment as well as cost of living differ widely the country over, and it is now seen that the national settlement not only a illogical, but involves insuperable difficulties. Its worst feature, of course, is that it leads naturally to the national strike with its threat of complete paralysis of transportation. That makes the national strike an intolerable proposition from the standpoint of the public.

Early in the strike the Labor Board recognized the "company unions" and agreements between rail managements and such unions. The Pennsylvania has for some time had such an organization of its own employees with which it deals amicably and with satisfaction to both sides. Since the collapse of the shopcrafts' strike, or its particular settlement, the organization of company unions had proceeded rapidly on those roads that refused the final offer of the shopmen.

Only a few days ago the New York Central management met representatives of the trainmen's brotherhoods around a conference table, and in the friendliest fashion an agreement on all disputed points was quickly reached. There was no recourse to the Labor Board, and none was needed, for such a settlement is in full accord with the Transportation Act and the policy of the Board.

Both men and managers were well pleased with this return to the old way of settling disputes around the table.
Exactly in line with this more sensible and less dangerous way of settling together, is the proposal of S. Davies Warfield, the rail president who brought about the Baltimore settlement of the shopmen's strike, that a system of regional labor boards be organized.
The present tendency is in the direction of local self-government in the industrial world, and away from the intervention of outside labor leaders, who too often are politicians or officeholders with their own axes to grind.—Minneapolis Journal.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

ALONG the Milky Way came light fingers in the Fairy Queen's automobile. He had stolen it, you know, and was taking a ride.

He was very nappy and was singing this song:
"A dicky dum, dum, to a juniper tree
Tum dum, to tum dum, to tum dum!"

But he never could be quite as nappy as me,
Oh, tum dum, to tum dum, to tum dum!"

So I called up to him, "Little birdie I cried.

"If you'll come right along I will give you a ride!"

"Thank you, sir, wings were made for before wheels," he replied.

Tum dum, to tum dum, to tum dum!"

It wasn't a wonderful song, but it showed Light Fingers was happy whizzing along the Milky Way so smoothly 'n' all.

Nancy and Nick were hiding behind the Dreamland Tree, just as Rena Meena, the Magician, had told them to do.

Nick had the good-skin bad Rena Meena had given him and in it was a smoky dream about a railroad train.

Well, just before Light Fingers reached the Dreamland Tree Nick climbed it. Then he untied the string and out puffed the dream in a cloud.

It went straight down toward Light Fingers and he breathed it in and it made him sleepy. He sang more and more slowly "tum-dum, tum-dum, to tum-dum, to tum-dum!"

His head went over finally and he started to snore.

All at once the dream started to work. Light Fingers thought he saw a great freight train in front of him. He thought the Fairy Queen's automobile was going to run smash bang right into it. With a loud yell he jumped out, and what do you think?

He jumped so far he rolled off the Milky Way and came crashing to earth.

The Twins got into the automobile and slowed down to receive them.

DOING HIS BEST TO MESS THINGS UP AGAIN

IN ST. PAUL Where Citizens Can Buy City Bonds on Easy Payments

By W. H. Porterfield

St. Paul has a rather novel institution which for want of a better name they call the "city bank," although it isn't a bank at all, but rather a market for the purchase and sale of city securities.

It seems that some years ago the city wanted to market half a million in bonds, perfectly gilded stuff and at a fair rate of interest, but the bond buyers wanted what seemed an unfair rakeoff for "handling the deal" and so the "city bank" was formed by the city government.

The bonds were issued payable in "100-certificate" purchases over the counter by anyone with $10. These certificates draw a per cent interest from the moment they are sold. When enough of them have been secured by any one person he can trade them in for a city bond, and thus he becomes a bondholder of his own city, and presumably interested more deeply in its welfare.

At any rate the plan has worked perfectly, and all classes admit that the city has been saved hundreds of thousands, possibly millions, of dollars as a result.

It was found right early that the citizens of St. Paul were only too anxious to "get in on the ground floor" on the bonds of their city, if the denominations could be brought within their reach. Unquestionably every city in America could adopt this plan with profit to itself and its citizenry. There is nothing fantastic nor difficult about it. The thing has been tried out in this most conservative of cities, and it works perfectly.

Many Deposits
Nearly $1,000,000 is on deposit in the bank today, money of the people invested in the securities of their own home city.

St. Paul was the first city to adopt the commission form of government, the same being in the hands of a mayor at $5000, and six commissioners at $4500, and these commissioners attend to the departments assigned them.

But municipal ownership has made but little headway here owing, doubtless, to the conservative character of the population.

Yet St. Paul has not wanted for the picturesque in its official life. A city that could produce that greatest of empire builders, Jim Hill; an archbishop like Ireland, the great lumber baron Weyerhaeuser, and a couple of best sellers like Scott Fitzgerald and Sinclair Lewis, is entitled to an antidote in the shape of the dreamer-politician, the ex-mayor and poet of St. Paul, Lawrence Hodgson, doubtless her most picturesque character.

A Land of Trees
Minnesota is a land—a realm of trees, and Minneapolis, with her chains of grass-bordered and tree-framed lakes, is queen of the realm—possibly the most beautiful city in the world.

When you look at a tree do you think of its beauty, of the years God has taken to make it what it is?

Not so long ago, a famous tree man of Minneapolis passed to his rest—Charles M. Loring, an old man and a wealthy one, too. Loring was probably the best loved man in all the city.

All his long life, Loring had labored to help God make trees, and wherever he had planted trees and tree seeds, along the highways, in parks—everywhere, and when the trees got sick, as sometimes they do, he knew what to give relief.

And as the crowning act of a beautiful life, Loring gave 500 beautiful elm trees as memorials to 500 Minnesota boys who gave their lives in the Great War; and these elms have been planted most effectively along the splendid Victory Memorial drive, which is to become a part of the great 100-mile drive around the city, and at the base of every tree is the name of the soldier to whom the tree has been dedicated.

Isn't that a beautiful war memorial and wasn't that a divine consecration to a life filled with love of the trees?

SECRET OF A GOOD DISPOSITION
A woman who carefully safeguards her health benefits her disposition. She will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with sweet women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Prefailure and nervousness rapidly destroy good dispositions. Sickly, all worn-out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper, from women who have been restored to health and happiness by its use after years of suffering. Why don't you try it?

MANDAN NEWS

Relieve Bismarck Man of Purse and $15 At Fair Grounds

While pickpockets did a thriving business on the Mandan Fair grounds Tuesday night, they did not play their trade Wednesday night, according to the report of Chief of Police Frank O'Brien.

In one bunch of seven pocketbooks found on one part of the grounds Wednesday were the purses of Scott Cameron of Bismarck, Dr. B. K. Bjornson of Mandan; M. J. Staigle, Mandan, and others not identified.

Mr. Cameron stated that he was relieved of about $15 when his purse was taken. He said that he thought the work of the light-fingered expert had taken place on the fair grounds. Some papers were also in the purse. It is reported that these were found torn in two with the purses.

Chief O'Brien has at his office an assortment of pocketbooks, a woman's handbag, and women's handbags or purses. A handbag and check book containing property of Mrs. M. C. Rausch of Elgin was found in the woods near the fair grounds as was also a traveling bag with men's and women's apparel but no identification marks or papers was recovered in the woods. A suitcase stolen from John Dawson's automobile was also found. M. J. Staigle, Frank Pulkrabek, and Frank Cermak reported to the police that their pockets had been picked of $2, $18, and $4, respectively.

It is believed that the order of the police for lights on the grand stand to be kept lighted prevented any further work of the pickpockets Wednesday night.

Woman Student of Business Women Gives Girls Her Rules for Becoming Executives

HELEN FRANCES THOMPSON

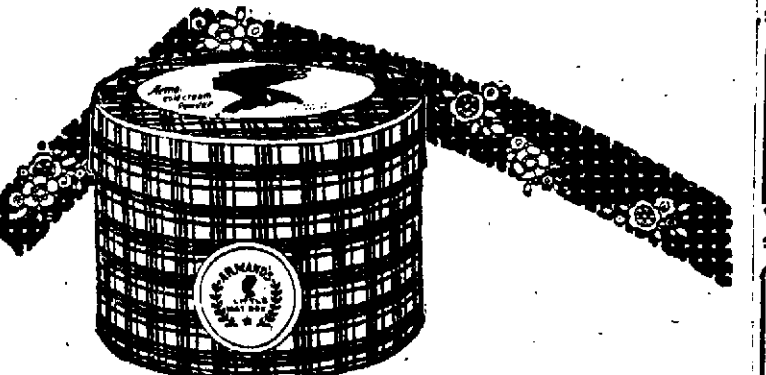

By Marian Hale
Though a librarian by profession, Helen Frances Thompson of Yonkers, N. Y., finds it much more interesting to study people more interesting to study people than books.

Her favorite character in real life is the business woman. Under the pen name "Jean Rich" she has written an interesting little volume, "Do's and Don'ts for Business Women," based on her observations and convictions.
"You see, women are really in earnest about their work these days," she explains, "and they are looking forward to executive positions just as men are."
"The growing demand for women executives proves women's ability to fill such positions."

When asked to name a few qualifications for the executive, she replied.
How to Climb
"To be a successful executive, a woman must know her job thoroughly. The woman who has worked her way from the bottom of the business ladder, working in each department of the business, makes the best type of leader."
"The executive must also have a keen understanding of human nature. Her sympathies must be keen. She must be able to get the other person's point of view. She must show absolute impartiality and never play personal favorites."

POLICE FILM OBTAINED
The State Good Roads Association has arranged with the Eltinge Theatre to show next week the picture entitled "Hurry Slowly." This picture was secured from the Police Department of Detroit, Michigan and shows how accidents happen to school children on the streets of that city. The numerous accidents during the past few years in and about Bismarck, some of them fatal, show the need of bringing accident prevention to the attention of pedestrians and motorists, association officials say.

The reel referred to will be given as an added attraction to the regular performance.

Among the many new models of fall coats and wraps the short jacket seems to have an enviable popularity. It is bloused and has a wide band around the hips which fastens snugly. A high collar usually accompanies it. The coat itself is frequently made of erasat cloth with collar and cuffs of fur. Often, too, it is made of heavy coating with fur collar and cuffs.

Marriage A La Mode

A Japanese marriage often begins as early as 7:30 in the morning and lasts until late at night.

At one time during the ceremony the bridegroom reads a written report to his honorable ancestors.

Following that, sake, the Japanese drink, is served to the couple and prayers for their happiness are offered.

BROWNS AND YANKS WIN;
GIANTS LOSE

Even if St. Louis Wins All Games Scheduled They Have Slight Chance

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 22.—By overcoming a five run lead and defeating the Detroit Tigers yesterday 9 to 8, while the Browns were winning from Washington 7 to 6, the Yankees today maintained their lead of three and one-half games over the St. Louis club. It was the Browns' first victory in their last four games.

The Yankees have seven more games to play while the Browns have six on their schedule. Thus if the Browns win four of their contests, and the Browns win all of their games the New York club will win the pennant by one full game.

The Giants lost ground in their pennant fight when they dropped a second game to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 1, and are now only three and one-half games to the good. To certainly the Giants must win seven of their remaining eleven games. The Pirates, with eight games on their schedule to nose out the leaders must finish the season without a defeat while the Giants win only five of their games.

The Cubs and Phillies and Cincinnati and Boston Nationals split doubleheaders and Brooklyn won from St. Louis in other National league contests.

In the American league the Athletics defeated Chicago, 6-1, and Boston took a swat from Cleveland, 15 to 5, in the other games.

The Yanks open their final series at Cleveland today, while the Browns face the Athletics.

EDDIE COLLINS TELLS HOW WORLD SERIES PLAYER FEELS

By Eddie Collins
World's Greatest Second Baseman
Frequently I have been asked the question, "How does it feel to play in a world series?" I can at least say, "not monotonous, even though I have participated in six."

The toughest part of any world series, as far as the mental or nervous strain is concerned, that I have ever experienced has been when I was out of uniform. Once in my baseball togs out on the field and in the game, I've never felt it any different from any regular season affair. But in between games, especially if a postponement occurs or the team is idle traveling, then is when I've felt ill at least, with a longing for it to be over and to be miles away from baseball.

I am sure the 1911 Athletic-Giant series was the worst in this respect, when run caused a lay off for four or five consecutive days. I remember some of our team went to Cuba after the series, but I was so glad to be through with baseball for that year I wouldn't have gone for a mint.

Frequently a world series will make or break a promising player. I recall one specific instance in the case of Wallie Schang.

His First Time Up
In 1913 in his first game the first time he came to bat against the Giants, Barry was on first, no one out. "Schangie" leaned over the bench and said to Manager Mack, "What shall I do?" meaning whether to bunt or hit. Connie hesitated for a fraction of a second, then said to the kid, "You go up there and use your own judgment."

Schang attempted to bunt the first, fouled it off, and on the very next ball flashed Barry the hit-and-run sign. And bang went a base hit to center on which Barry made third and "Schangie" pulled up at second on the throw in. That play alone I honestly believe gave Schang more confidence than any base hit he ever made before or since.

Once in a great while over-confidence will beat a team in a world series. One shining example of this was the 1914 landslide that overtook the Athletics against the "cocky" Braves. It nearly beat the Red Sox in 1912, but they managed to overcome it and finally won out.

"Do you think the fact they are playing for big stakes has any effect on the players, and do some often see a dollar sign coming their way instead of a ball?" is another query that I've been asked.

Strunk Pulls One
In general, I'd say no, because every player is too absorbed in the game itself, striving to win, rather than figuring out his share of the game.

I do recall a certain bit of jest that was pulled by Amos Strunk in 1913 on the play that ended that series and one that afforded three or four of us a good laugh afterward. It was on the Polo Grounds, and Larry Doyle hit a high fly toward short right which Eddie Murphy caught.

Amos, McInnis and I were close to him when he was about to make the catch. Just before he did "Strunkie" yelled, "Squeeze that ball, there's $10,000 depending on it." Which had reference to the Snodgrass miff of the preceding year. Needless to do any one of his men any good. It's great to be in a series, but take it from me, it's greater when it's over—and you have won.

Babe Ruth Says

I see by the papers that Commissioner Landis is receiving many complaints about the umpiring in the major leagues this season.

That some of the American league umpires should be more efficient, than others goes without saying.

Billy Evanses are few and far between and it isn't to be expected that every member of Ben Johnson's staff should be as capable as he. Some of the others are not far behind, however, and it is my peculiar notion that the umpiring in the American League this year is better, on the whole, than at any other time within the span of my major league experience.

Evans has been called the "perfect umpire," and in my opinion he is all of that. He seldom makes a mistake in his judgment on strikes and balls, his calling of plays on the bases is practically 100 per cent perfect, and in his case, exceptional ability is coupled with splendid tact and a temperament worthy of a diplomat. Unlike some umpires I could name Evans will acknowledge a mistake when he makes one, but does it in such a way that it does not weigh his hold on the situation or impair the respect in which he is held by the players.

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown, N. D., Sept. 22.—Dear Sir: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, came to our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats, so I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on his biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventy more rats, making a total of seventy-four rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not count.

This is some big rat tale, but, nevertheless, it is so, just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good.

Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

Making New Markets With Printer's Ink

One of the most striking changes of the past ten years is that which has come about in the important business of housekeeping. In this short time the broom and the washboard have vanished from the housewife's coat of arms, and the comic pictures in which Mary hurls the flatiron at John don't ring true, as they once did.

Broom, washboard and flatiron have given way to suction sweeper, electric washing machine and electric iron. And Mary doesn't hurl the iron at John any longer, not simply because it's fastened to a cord, but because she's taking no chances with it.

What has brought about this new and agreeable state of affairs? Well, how did Mary happen to buy that new iron which has proved such a boon to herself—and John? She saw it advertised, of course. And the multiplied Marys of today represent a great market created largely through national advertising.

No wonder the alert retailer and the wholesaler have come to hold national advertising in high esteem—for besides making easier for them the sale of goods with long-established markets, quickening their turnover, protecting them against inferior merchandise and benefiting them in many other ways, national advertising is constantly creating markets for new merchandise and opening up new channels of trade.

It is because America reads advertising that the new idea today so swiftly supplants the old. Advertising changes deep-rooted habits. Advertising creates new desires. Advertising sets new and better standards. And all this it does with amazing swiftness—for advertising speaks to millions simultaneously.

The safety razor, the player piano, massage cream, the glass baking dish, wall board, fireproof roofing, the talking machine, soap flakes, canned soup—one could go on indefinitely extending the list of products which today testify to the ability of national advertising to create new merchandise demands.

There is probably no industry today for which advertising has not blazed new trails. There is no merchant, wholesale or retail, the scope of whose business it has not greatly widened.

But the main thing which advertising does for the retailer is to speed up his turnover; that's what makes him a profit.

News of the Markets

WHEAT GOES UP UP WITH RUSH ON WAR RUMOR

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 22.—Wheat went up with a rush today as soon as the market opened. Grave developments at the Dardanelles were reported, and discharges were at hand saying Great Britain's demand for grain from the United States would be very large. Besides, Liverpool quotations were up and prices at Winnipeg showed a big jump. After buying of future deliveries here was done for houses with Eastern and foreign connections, initial prices which ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents, with December $1.07 1/2 to $1.08 1/2, and May $1.11 1/2 to $1.12 1/2, were followed by moderate further gains and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently all deliveries of wheat ascended to the highest price level since early in August. On the bulge, however, profit taking sales enlarged, and the market reacted somewhat. The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher, with December $1.08 1/2 to $1.09 1/2 and May $1.12 1/2 to $1.13 1/2.

Corn and oats rose with wheat. After opening 1/2 to 3/4 cent higher, December 50 1/2 to 51 1/2, the corn market scored an additional uptick.

May corn reached a new high price record for the season, but profit taking forced a setback later. The close was unsettled, 1/2 to 3/4 cent higher, with December 50 1/2 to 51 1/2, and May 51 1/2 to 52 1/2.

Oats started 1/2 to 3/4 cent higher, December 37 1/2 to 38 1/2, and May 39 1/2 to 40 1/2. Higher quotations on hogs helped to give a lift to provisions.

NEWS OF WALL STREET

(By the Associated Press)
New York, Sept. 22.—Inability to meet overnight margin calls forced an additional supply of stocks into the market at today's opening, causing further recession in prices. Selling pressure, induced largely by liquidation of weakened accounts, extended over most of the list, public utilities, rails and a number of specialties being the hardest hit.

Losses of a point or more took place in Columbia Gas, the New York, New Jersey, People's Gas, Missouri Pacific, preferred, Erie, second preferred, Chicago and North Western, Baldwin and Studebaker. American Ice dropped two points and Krege 2 1/2. Elsewhere the declines were largely fractional. There were a few exceptions to the downward trend, Jones Brothers Tea being pushed up 1 1/2 in response to the announcement of an increased dividend. Rock Island, one of the weak features yesterday, rallied feebly and St. Louis-Southern Theatricals, a point. Standard Oil of New Jersey and Gulf States Steel also extended their gains of yesterday.

Completion of the early forced selling which failed to uncover any acute weakness caused extensive buying in the latter part of the day. Speculative belief that the reaction had gone far enough was indicated by the ready absorption of all offerings. Buoyancy of the Standard Oil shares and renewed accumulation of Gulf States Steel was helping to cause the rally. Trading slackened somewhat when the renewal rate for call loans was fixed at five percent, the highest since June 28. Standard Oil of New Jersey extended its gains to four points and Gulf States Steel to 3. Other oil, railroad, equipment, copper, paper and high grade industrials also participated in the advance.

Stocks were again sold heavily in the early afternoon on unfavorable reports respecting the Turkish situation. Professionals who had fixed the market in the morning seeing that the supply of stock was too large to be absorbed hurriedly revised their position. The downward trend practically obliterated all of the morning rise and carried many leaders 1 to 2 points below yesterday's final figures.

Subsidence of selling pressure and the reappearance of bullish demonstrations in special stocks resulted in a brisk rally in the final hour. The closing was firm.

good stuff was cleaned up in the first half hour or so, and brought about 25 advance in prices.

Flax was better. Crushers here advanced their bids and were better buyers. Offerings were moderate and the arrive contracts had been taken care of.

VOLSTEAD TO FACE KRALE IN NOVEMBER

Benson, Minn., Sept. 22.—Definite announcement was made today by Rev. O. J. Kvale of Benson, that he would file next Monday, September 25, as an independent candidate for congress from the seventh district, in opposition to Congressman A. J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act.

Rev. Kvale was endorsed for congress both by the Democratic and Farmer-Labor district conventions.

Rev. Kvale has declared himself "just as div as Volstead," with perhaps a little to spare, so the issue in the eleventh district will not be prohibition.

Volstead was defeated by Rev. Kvale in the primary of 1920, but Rev. Kvale was disqualified for the Republican nomination when charges of violation of the state corrupt practices act were sustained against him by district court.

In the fall election that year, running as an independent, on opposition to Representative Volstead, he was defeated by a narrow margin. In that election, Rev. Kvale had the endorsement of the Farmer-Labor or nonpartisan league group, which actively pressed his candidacy.

STRIKERS HELD TO JURY TRIAL

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 22.—Jacob Purpur and Fred Mayer, striking Grand Forks railroad men were held to a jury trial in United States District Court by Federal Judge C. F. Anderson today, when arraigned to show cause why they should not be tried for contempt of court for breaking an injunction issued by him forbidding violence or threats of violence in connection with the shopmen's strike. Purpur and Mayer are alleged to have attacked a railroad guard, Thomas Mrachek who shot Adolph Purpur after the alleged attack.

The case of Williams, Luby, Deming and West, Minot men, cited for contempt of the same order, and that of Edward Schmigard of New Rockford, a similar case, were both continued until Wednesday, September 27, on motion of attorneys.

Antelope Threaten With Extinction

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Sept. 21.—The American antelope is threatened with extinction, according to officials here of the department of the interior. Unless extensive protective measures are taken, officials declared, an animal widely admired for its coloring, delicate proportions and zephyr-like movements, soon will be seen only in museums.

There are probably not more than 3,000 antelope remaining in the United States, according to a statement, and the total number in the park is about 350. In 1908 the number was estimated as 2,000.

The cause of the antelope has been taken up by the American Bison Society of New York. A number of societies interested in game preservation will meet jointly in the east soon to consider a program to protect antelope. Proposed measures include provision for an adequate winter range for Yellowstone herds, and for herds remaining in Oregon, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and California.

Last winter nearly a third of the Yellowstone Park herds were lost.

U. S. Girl Is German Film Star

"A prophet is not without honor save in his own country," so while Pola Negri comes to the United States Fern Andrea of Watska, Ill., becomes a great film star in Germany. "Unsere Fern" (our Fern) is what German fans call her.

as a result of heavy snows and the depredations of coyotes, wolves and mountain lions. A part of this loss was made up by birth of the young this spring.

The most serious menace to their preservation here is the absence of suitable winter range, according to these officials. Besides running the risk of starvation, owing to scant forage if the snows are deep they are easy prey for predatory animals.

The possible winter range for antelope here at present is about 3,000 acres, which must be shared with the deer, elk and other grazing animals. The summer range covers about 100,000 acres.

Park authorities will withdraw part of the summer range from tourist use next season, as the presence of tourists is said to keep the nervous animals on the qui vive and to interfere with breeding.

GARDEN SUIT NEARING END

The suit in federal court over the possession of the stores of the Gordon Clothing company and the Leador store in Minot, and Gordon Clothing, Valley City, growing out of the bankruptcy of Abe Gordon of Minot was to be concluded in federal court before Judge Miller today.

The defense attorneys had submitted motions asking for dismissal of the complaint of the receiver for permanent possession of the stores as to various defendants. A. P. Paulson of Valley City argued for the dismissal as to Sam Gordon and Gordon Clothing of that city.

The plaintiff asserts that Abe Gordon made various transfers of stocks of goods and notes to relatives in order to evade creditors' claims, which allegation the defense denies. Arguments in the case were taken up this morning.

Officials Search For Man Put Off Train

County and Northern Pacific officials are searching for Al. M. Johnson, or "Johnson" as he is called, who as a result of nervous fears and delusions about a "frame up" refused to go to bed in the sleeper between Billings and Bismarck was put off the train when he could not show his ticket which was in the keeping of his friends who had gone to bed, and rode the bumpers into Bismarck rather than take the word of a railroad agent, who later assured him that his ticket had been found.

EVEN SAILORS ARE SAVING THESE DAYS

Cleveland, O., Sept. 22.—The spendthrift sailor is a thing of the past and the sea-going savings bank plan started by the Lake Carriers' association is given credit for the change.

The prodigality of the sailor with his money when ashore was a byword everywhere until about ten years ago when J. H. Sheadle, then a member of the association and since deceased, proposed a savings bank. Under the cooperation of a Cleveland bank his plan was put in operation.

The captain, in paying off, asked each man as he paid him if he wished to deposit any part of his pay in the bank. If so, he made a draft on the owner for the amount the sailor wished to deposit. Three copies of the draft were made, the original being mailed to the trust company, one to the owner stating the draft had been made on him and the other retained by the captain as a record.

The withdrawal blank is an order on the depositor's bank account. The bank honors it by mailing to the address indicated a New York draft to the order of the depositor. In cashing the draft at any port, the depositor may be identified by the captain or otherwise or the man himself may cash it if he has the funds. The bank pays four percent on all deposits.

During the season this year crews on twenty-seven steamers and one barge deposited a total of $185,080.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE.

Jack Holt went out of the studio one day and found Clarence Burton mysteriously wiping the dust and grease off his (Jack's) car.

"I don't know why you're doing me such a favor, but thanks just the same," said the Paramount star, puzzled as to the character actor's motive in giving his car a free shine.

In explanation, Burton held up the rag with which he was shining the car. It was a shirt.

"Just getting a little local color on this shirt to make it look more realistic," he explained.

The new picture, in which Burton plays the part of "Nelson," a villainous pearl thief in the South Sea Island fisheries, is "The Man Unconquerable," and will be shown at the Eltinge theater, Friday and Saturday. Pathe News and a Baby Peggy comedy are also on the program.

BISMARCK

It isn't every day that a picture with the appeal of "The Great Redeemer" is flashed across the horizon. And for the appeal in this picture it would seem that the major credit belongs to E. H. Van Loan, the author, although the director, cast and adapters must be no means be overlooked when credit is being distributed.

Van Loan's contribution is a story with all the elements of popular success. In skeleton it has done service for the screen before. But the introduction of a spiritual uplift theme, daring perhaps, but reverentially handled, has given it a new dress and treatment, one that is always interesting, and as the story reaches its ant climax, sublimely sweeping.

The characters, excellently drawn, are always human. The acting is of a high order, House Peters, Marjorie Daw, Jack MacDonald and Joseph Singleton playing with fine effect. The director, Clarence Brown, working under the personal supervision of Maurice Tourneur, caught supervision of Maurice Tourneur.

Have You Indigestion, Gas or Stomach Trouble?

Read This Remarkable Case

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For over fifteen years I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have spells of acute indigestion and would suffer untold agony. Nothing I ate agreed with me, gas would form, and my food did not nourish me. I also had a lingering cough that was very annoying. I was down sick in bed when a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It not only got me up out of my sick bed, but has rid me of my cough and completely cured me of my stomach trouble so that I can eat anything I choose without any bad effect."—Mrs. E. F. Pettit, 810 S. Broadway.

THE TONGUE — AN INDEX

By Dr. R. H. Bishop

The tongue rightly has been called the index to a disordered stomach. There are few physicians, indeed, who would at a glance the heavily coated, gray or yellowish tongue, with tip and margin of red, accompanied by other characteristic symptoms, as denoting that commonest of all ills, indigestion.

The tongue serves also as an index to many other diseases. On the tongue of a small-pox patient are distinctive vesicles (blisters), while the sufferer from measles has small red spots, tipped with white. In case of pernicious anemia, the tongue is exceedingly pale and bloodless and generally becomes very sore. The tongue in the condition of a hemorrhage resembles that of anemia.

Tuberculosis of the tongue commences on the tip or edge and breaks down into an ulcer. It secretes pus and is most painful.

If you notice an unnatural appearance of your tongue, it is well to consult a physician. He can determine at once if there is any danger and advise a preventive for the special disease indicated.
